COLONEL JAY M. HOLMES, pictured above, will head the Walled-Lake Door Company now under construction on the outskirts of Cameron. The World Sans Gravity Shown In Herald Art

The Herald window this week carries a second grad lesson in btoh the certain and the uncertain.

The second grade unit under Miss Rosson studied both the certainty of the law of gravity and the uncertain weather.

In a "short course" the teacher taught us, as she had the children something about the make-up of clouds and the causes of rain of snow and the winds. She told about the earth, the location of the equator and the poles and the weather at each.

Mrs. Scholfield timed the lessen for her section of the second grade with the appearance of an eskimo lecturer, at the school on Wednesday Jan 18.

City Chartered In Two To One Vote After 68 Years Of Incorporation

Today Cameron is operating under its own charter. By a vote of 330 to 154 on Saturday Jan. 28 the electorate made the decision for the city which was incorporated on July 2, 1889.

There were no vast changes in city government in sight reported Mayor O. B. Horstmann. "We have a lot of work to do in certifying and implementing the new charter," said the Mayor.

The charter does make the offices of City Marshal, City Clerk and City Attorney appointive instead of elective but this will not affect the present status of these officers.

The city election is scheduled for April 3 which is the first Tuesday in April and set up some time for the election.

Asked about anticipated differences in administrative problems in the past as compared to their treatment under the charter the mayor said "You will always have a good administration if you have men in office who are willing to work and have the good of the city at heart."

Don Humble of the charter commission said "The only way to make the charter operate effectively is for the people to cooperate with the council."

Jack N. Prescott remarked "The Commission worked hard and has consistently felt that it did a service for the city and that feeling has been justified by the people in their two to one vote for that charter....It will aid materially in the progress of our city."

World Day of Prayer Around Globe --- Friday Feb. 17

A day of prayer begun by a small group of U.S women seventy years ago will be marked by millions of Christians around the globe in services dedicated to world peace and understanding. On Friday, the World Day of Prayer will be observed in more than 20,000 U. S. communities and in more than 134 other countries on almost every continent and island.

At services circling the earth for more than twenty-four hours, people of all ages and races will pray in more than a thousand languages and dialects for understanding among the nations of the world. And with their prayers will go offerings of money and material goods to help relieve human need and suffering wherever it exists. In the United States alone last year, World Day of Prayer offerings provided more than $460,958 for co-operative Christian ministries in health, education, and welfare at home and abroad.

Sponsored in the United States by United Church Women, a general department of the National Council of Churches, the program is prepared each year by an author from one of the 134 cooperating countries. This seventieth year is marked by a service written by American Indian leaders from the Cook Training School in Phoenix, Arizona. With the theme, "One flock, one shepherd, it abounds in the picturesque and expressive language of a people living close to nature, the lessons in tree and leaf, in the winds, in the sunset. Its call is from "The Mighty One, God the Lord who speaks and summons the earth from the rising of the sun to its setting," to a oneness that alone can bring peace.

FEB. 2 Is GROUNDHOG DAY

THIS IS THE DAY for the "Woodchuck to come out of hibernation" According to popular fancy this is prophetic of the length of winter. This definition of GROUNDHOG DAY is from Webster's unabridged.

Few of our readers are superstitious but Thursday is the day to be sure you get out of bed on the RIGHT side, "Cross your fingers," make a wish and go outside to see if you make a shadow; for if you do there will be SIX WEEKS MORE of winter (Such as it is this year).

SAFE DRIVERS — Charlie Nabours and Herbert Nance, standing nad Alfred Dusek and Narvie Caperton, seated are admiring their three year certificate for safe driving of government vehicles in the Post Office Department. AT THE RIGHT Postmaster John Hays and Nance are admiring the dish of oysters served by Mrs. Kathy Macon at Kathy's Cfae when the Postoffice crew had one of their "Oyster busts" recently.

Friendship Youth Shot In Side By Accidental Shotgun Blast

James Bailes, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailes of the Friendship Community was severely wounded by the accidental discharge of a shotgun at his home Sunday evening at about 9 pm.

Father of the boy, Joe Bailes had taken the family car for a trip to Houston at about 9 o'clock and James had taken a twenty gage shotgun out of the car and was starting in the house with it when his footing slipped on the first step of the house and the gun fired striking him in the side of his body.

He was brought to the Newton Memorial Hospital by his mother and brother. The family had notified the sheriffs office and they located Mr. Bailes in Cameron before he had begun his trip to Houston.

The doctor in charge of the case reported Tuesday that Bailes the shot had blasted a sizeable hole in the side of the boy but that the prospects were good for a reasonably short stay in the hospital and a complete recovery.

Bo Peeps

By James E. "Bo" Patterson

We should have "Stood in bed" last week. There was comment of varied kinds on exactly eight articles in the paper. Night Marshal Lee Fuller felt the finger pointed at him in the burglary story and he hurried to advise that such mischief had been going on for some time prior to his taking over....O. A. White writes an editorial in this paper "covering up" a flub we made last week on the subject of his main interest at this time....A lawyer "objected" to a story about a legal battle.. objection tabled....Can you do that Judge Graham?....Bo Peeps lost some sleep over a ladies story that was fiddled up mechanically and "added to" by his meddling typewriter....Then the scorcher was when we "took the count" from the City fathers who felt that paying for de-decorating is sufficient for the city. The decorations are the property of other people and so the liability for the tinsel must be theirs we were informed. From the deep recesses of our shell, to where we retreated, we "thought" "Everybody's biz is nobody's biz ....Then in a jocular vein we added "There is NO BIZ LIKE OUR BIZ."

The First National Bank is to be congratulated on its "Sound" investment. Guess we just like advertising in all its forms and that automobile wired for sound and put on the streets of Cameron by the bank can surely do a good job for many a worthy cause. It drummed up nickles and dimes for the MOD and votes for the charter Saturday. KMIL and about fifty advertisers did their parts too. But you know there isn't any advertising compared to WEEKLY NEWSPAPER advertising. Did you ever realize how long a weekly newspaper stays around a farm home? It is placed in the room where all reading is done. It is read DAILY ....usually at the same time.... until toward the end of the week it is down to the last little scrap and YOUR AD might be on that last little piece. There is advertising that DOES THE JOB.

Asked Hizzoner the Mayor how he felt living under a charter Monday. "Haven't had much experience at it yet" he replied.

Two Alcoa Men Settle Indemnity Suits Out Of Court

Two employees of Alcoa were involved in a lawsuit with the Texas Employers Insurance Association this week. The case of Louis L. Parker was set for trial and the jurors chosen but no testimony was heard when the trial lawyers announced a settlement in that case and in the second case of Edward Garcia versus the Insurance Co. which was set for Monday February 6.

There were many lawyers envolved in a pre-trial hearing in the litigation between the City of Thorndale and the C. Joe Evans Construction Company and approximately twenty-five defendants including Milam County. Nothing reportable on this suit has yet come out of the court.

$60,000 Cameron Guard Armory Said To Be In Blueprint Stage

By Lloyd Albertson

Prospects for a new and larger Armory building for the local National Guard unit, Battery C, 649th Anti-aircraft Artillery Battalion are still about where they were several months ago, the organization said today, despite a growing belief since the first of the year that construction probably would get under way sometime in 1956.

Last year an announcement was released to the newspapers that a new Armory building had been authorized for Cameron, with construction expected to begin late in 1955 or in 1956.

The most recent development in that direction, Battery C said, was that blue-prints for the new structure were received here several weeks ago.

According to the architect's sketches, it will be much larger and have more facitlities than the present building Battery C is using as an Armory. It will be of tile and reinforced concrete construction. Lenght is 114 feet, 1 inch - width 109 feet, 1 inch. The plans call for a prviate office for the Battery commander, classrooms, supply rooms, locker room and a drill hall measuring 90 feet long by 61 feet wide.

Cost of the new building is estimated to be about sixty thousand dollars.

Location is expected to be adjacent to the present building which while called an Armory, really is a vehicle storage building. The National Guard has a tract of approximately 20 acres there which was donated by the Chamber of Commerce and local business firms and individuals who subscribed to a fund to purchase the land several years ago.

Construction of the new building will be of real help to the members of Battery C who for the past two years or more have been more and more crowded in their present Armory as the number of Guardsmen in the organization increased.

Traffic Laws And Signs Mean Life Says McFadden

"How well do you know your traffic laws?"

That life-and-death question was fired point-blank at the people of this State today by Mr. E. C. McFadden of Dallas, Vice President of Employers' Casualty Company and President of the Texas Safety Association, Inc., as the first shot in the traffic safety drive inaugurated this month by the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

"The answer to this question will no doubt cause much disquietude among many of our citizenry," Mr. McFadden said.

"There is no doubt that the average citizen's ignorance of his own traffic laws is appalling, despite the fact that his very life may depend upon his complete knowledge of— and his use of— these traffic laws in our highly complex traffic picture. Such knowledge may mean the difference between life and death to oneself or to another person."

Urging all local traffic officials and civic agencies in the State to undertake intensive efforts to educate the general public in local traffic laws by demonstrations training schools, discussions and dissemination of literature, Mr. McFadden discussed the responsibility of community officials and civic leaders in the local drive to prevent traffic accidents.

165 New Cooperators In Taylor SCS District Ups Total To 43 percent

During the year 165 additional landowners became cooperators with the district and were assisted in getting soil and water conservation program started on their farms. This brings the total number of landowners now cooperators with the district to 2,245. These 2,245 cooperators which represents 43 percent of all the farm units in the district have a total of 493,060 acres under soil conservation treatment which is approximately one-half of all the agricultural land in the district. Of thses 2,245 cooperators 1855 established one or more conservation practices on their farms during the year. The establishment of complete and coordinated soil conservation programs was completed on 64 farms.

Contour farming in connection with terraces was established for the first time on 10,904 acres which brings the total number of acres of cropland now being farmed on the contour by district cooperators to 115,861 acres Legume cover corps were planted for the first time on 10,607 acres for soil improvement and for soil conditioning. Crop residue utilization which is management of the residue of crops in such a manner that it is left on the soil surface or mixed slightly in the surface soil was carried out on well over 100,000 acres of cropland which includes 16,005 acres on which this practice was carried out for the first time. Rotation hay and pasture was established on 5,547 acres - the total to-date on this practice 20,287 acres.

While dry weather hindered accomplishments in establishment of vegetative practices like cover crops and the seeding of pastures it was very favorable for the construction of terraces and as a result 254 miles of terraces and 12 miles of diversion terraces were constructed and 166 waterways were seeded and sodded for terrace outlet protection. The continued dry weather also made farmers more conscious of the need for providing for an adequate water supply for livestock which resulted in the construction of 270 farm ponds.

Pasture seeding and sodding was performed on 1,400 acres and other types of pasture improvement practices consisting of proper use, deferred and rotation grazing were carried out on over 40,000 acres. Other accomplishments listed in the report are two sprinkle irrigation systems established for 78 acres; border irrigation applied on 46 acres; land leveling for irrigation on 73 acres, improved water application on 46 acres and 3 irrigation reservoirs constructed.

The Taylor Soil Conservation District is made up of parts of Milam, Travis and Williamson counties and is administered by a five-man board of supervisors. Each supervisor is a farmer elected by the landowners in the district. The board presently is composed of W. F. Voelker-chairman, Manor; Henry Pumphrey-vice-chairman, Taylor; A. W. Butts-secretary, Rockdale; A. C. Crumley, Leander and George Dollinger, Thrall

The district was furnished technical assistance for the planning and application of the conservation practices by the Soil Conservation Service through its work unit offices located in the district.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

The Irritating Itch

Almost everyone can becom easily alarmed about his heart, hi lungs and his stomach, but take his 20 square feet of skin very muc for granted.

Yet skin diseases rank amon man's most widespread and annoy ing ailments They seldom d stroy their vic tim's life, bu they can harass with their nag ging itch, pain o unsightly appear ance.

The number o skin disease sufferers in the U.S today is rapidly multiplying. Th Journal of the American Medica Association estimates, for example that 600,000 U.S. workers are af flicted with inflamed skin becaus of their occupations. Approximatel two-thirds of all diseases for whic workers receive insurance payment are the result of skin eruptions.

As undemocratic as they are un comfortable, these ailments hav plagued many famous people—ofte pushing their victims to desperat measures. One of the most famou Biblical stories, for instance, con cerns Job whose sudden afflictio with a terrible skin disease drov him to curse the day he was born

To combat the secondary infec tions and complications which com monly follow scratching and dan gerous self-medication with unre liable "cure-alls," scientists hav developed a potent new topical oint ment with a double-barreled action The ointment Terra-Cortril com bines the hormone Cortril with th broad-range infection-fighting anti biotic Terramycin. Tested on 10 patients suffering from a variety o common skin diseases complicate by secondary infection or unhelpe by ordinary treatment, Terra-Cor tril yielded good results in 97 pe cent of the cases, according to U.S specialist Dr. Seymour I. Shapiro.

The fact that these diseases "ar among the most frequently encoun tered in medical practice," conclude Dr. Shapiro, underscores the useful ness of Terra-Cortril in the treat ment of skin diseases.

Milam Farm Social Security Clinic In Rockdale January 31

Social Security benefits and obligations of the agricultural worker will be the topic discussed by Jim B. Marley, manager of the Austin Social Security office at the first Milam County Farm Clinic meeting, sponsored by the Agricultural Committee of the Rockdale Chamber of Commerce, and scheduled for 7:30 P.M., Tuesday, Jan. 31 in the vocational building of the new Rockdale High School.

Mr. Marley is a recognized authority upon the agricultural aspects of the new and expanded social security program with its broad changes and increased benefits for all agricultural workers.

Pointing to the importance of this meeting for agricultural workers in the Milam County area, Ed Dillion, Agriculture Committee chairman of the Rockdale Chamber of Commerce calls attention to the fact that the new regulations require that farm and ranch operators are now responsible for collecting, and liable for the payment of the withholding tax forall employees to whom they pay $100. or more each year. Also of special interest to many farm operators are the provisions of the Social Security Law which provide for monthly payments, in the form of retirement pay or suvivors benefits, in the form of an earned right. The insured worker gets the payment regardless of how much money or property he might own.

Arrangements have been completed to care for a large crowd and all interested persons are invited to attend this first Milam County Farm Clinic.

The Milam County Farm Clinic is a planned series of meetings, sponsored by the Rockdale Chamber of Commerce to develop better farm practices and improved marketing.

New Facilities Creating More Alcoa Openings

Applicants are still needed to fill more than fifty job openings at Aluminum Company of America's Rockdale Works. The additional personnel is needed to help operate new facilities now under construction at the plant.

Approximately 50 sdditional men will be needed by March 15. Most of the job openings are for production men to work in the patrooms. These jobs require on speciatlized skills, rather men will be trained on the job for the work they are to do.

Employment manager E. A. Menke urged that all men who want to make applications do so as soon as possible to give his staff opportunity to interview applicants and facilitate the handling of necessary paper work. All applicants are carefully screened and acceptance is based on the overall suitability of the individual. Such papers as birth certificates, diplomas, and service discharges must be checked and the applicant must pass the usual thorough physical examination.

Treasury Plagued By Monkey Business

Question of dependency often plague collection agents of the Internal Revenue Service. This is particulary true when the status of valuable animals is the basis for argument.

The owner of a trained chimpanzee during the last filing season put up a strong fight in behalf of a dependency claim. After a lengthy discussion, the agent asked wearily:

"Why don't you let the chimpanzee file and make you the dependent?"

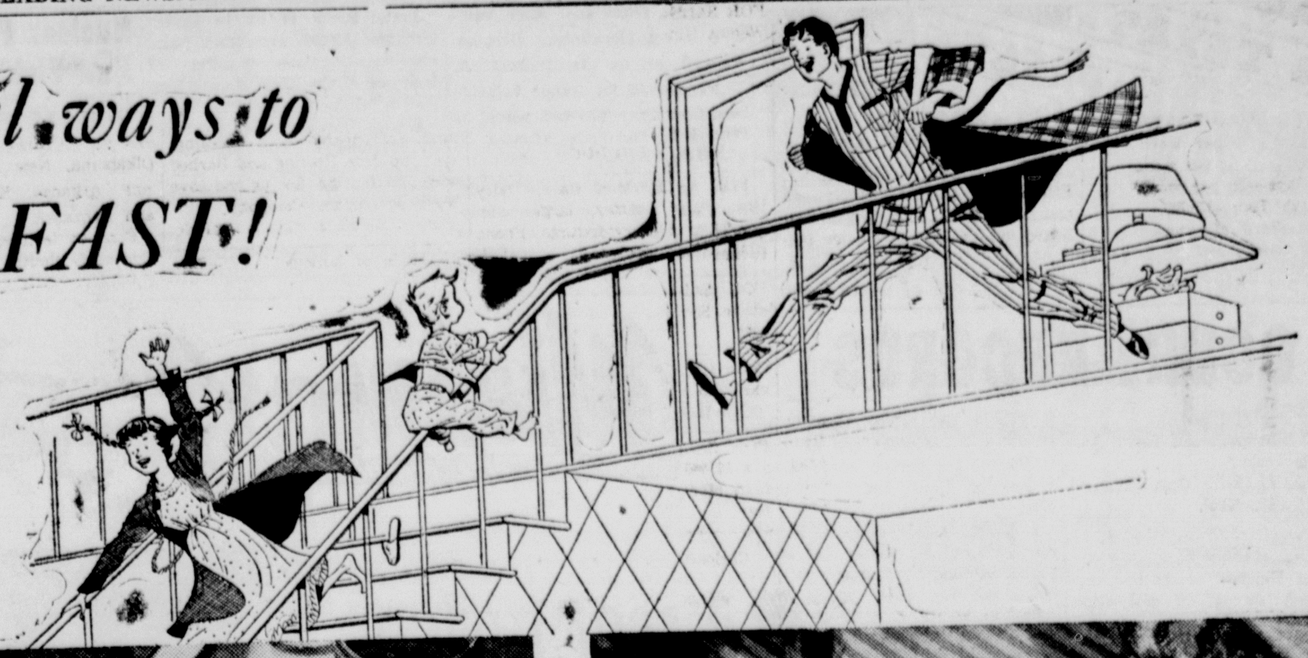
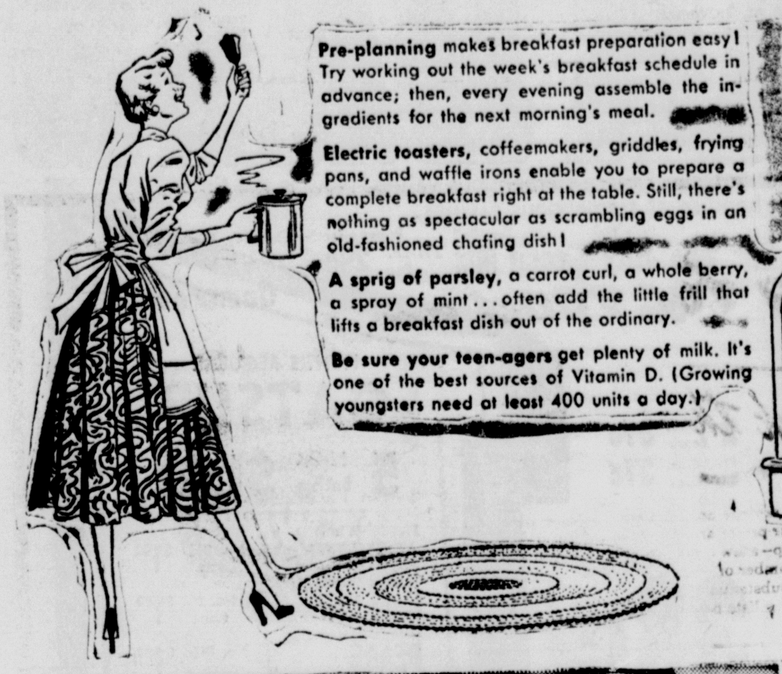
Shop SAFEWAY 7 wonderful ways to bring 'em running to BREAKFAST!



Every day your family gets up early and eager, when you turn on the breakfast magic! And you can turn it on with both ease and thrift. We proved that in our own Safeway kitchen—with these seven tasty, nourishing breakfasts. They're top-favorite breakfasts in four different ways: taste-appeal, convenience, variety, economy. And we're featuring all the makings at low, low prices! Get the family breakfast-happy today—with breakfast foods from Safeway.



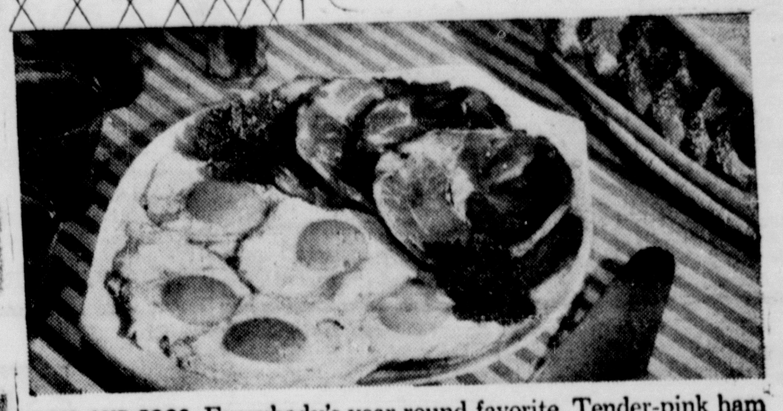
Pre-planning makes breakfast preparation easy! Try working out the week's breakfast schedule in advance; then, every evening assemble the ingredients for the next morning's meal.

Electric toasters, coffeemakers, griddles, frying pans, and waffle irons enable you to prepare a complete breakfast right at the table. Still, there's nothing as spectacular as scrambling eggs in an old-fashioned chafing dish!

A sprig of parsley, a carrot curl, a whole berry, a spray of mint . . . often add the little frill that lifts a breakfast dish out of the ordinary.

Be sure your teen-agers get plenty of milk. It's one of the best sources of Vitamin D. (Growing youngsters need at least 400 units a day.)

STEAK AND EGGS. Deee-licious combination! A hearty farm-style breakfast that tastes every bit as good in the city. Eggs fried sunny-side up, potatoes pan-browned, steak as you like it.



HAM AND EGGS. Everybody's year-round favorite. Tender-pink ham slices, golden-yolked eggs! Slices of broiled pineapple give this breakfast a new look, a new taste.

A Proclamation For World Day of Prayer

WHEREAS, it is the conviction of the United Council of Church Women, in fellowship with all those who seek the divine guidance of our Creator, that the many problems confronting us today can be solved only with the help of Almighty God; and

WHEREAS, World Day of Prayer has been designated on an international, interdenominational, interracial basis to join the people of the world together in furtherance of the doctrine, "The Lord Is Thy Keeper," and

WHEREAS, in order that the Church may fullfill the important role of exerting practical witness to the fact of God's purpose in human affairs, thereby advancing the international cause of peace on earth, it is necessary that we be ever mindful of the vast powe rof prayer in furthering his word and in combating the forces of evil that surround us:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, O. B. Horstmann, mayor of the City of Cameron, do hereby proclaim Friday, February 17, 1956 as in the city of Cameron, and call upon the people of our city to observe this day an individual invitation to attend a specific World Day of Prayer meeting; and if the duties of some are such as to make this impossible, I urge the people to pause in their work for one minute of prayer at High Noon, to ask that God give us light to guide us; courage to support us, and love to reunite us.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the seal of the city of Cameron, this 17th day of February, A. D. 1956.

O. B. HORSTMANN
MAYOR

Cameron Community Choir Slates 1956 Easter Cantata Presentation

The Cameron Community Choir will present the Easter Cantata, "The Resurrection Story," by Carrie B. Adams at the First Methodist sometime during the Easter season. This news is being welcomed over the entire county and is always a highlighted Easter event.

Mrs. Joe S. Hickman directs the choir and rehearsals are now underway. Mrs. Hickman invites members of the Cameron choirs and those surrounding communities to attend rehearsals and sing in the cantata.

Rehearsals are held each Tuesday night at the First Methodist Church from 7:30 to 8:30.

The Community choir annually presents cantata and was organized in 1946 under the direction of Mrs. Hickman who is the former Miss Lelia Lee Batte. Mrs. Hickman for many years has had charge of the music program at the First Methodist Church and the choir has presented many outstanding musical programs under her capable direction. She has been a valued personality to the music life of the community for many years.

The annual cantata presentation along with the Good Friday Service is always looked upon with keen interest and appreciated by all.

All interested in singing are urged to participate in the cantata.

World Service Second Purpose Of World Prayer

Here is revealed the second purpose of the World Day of Prayer beyond the spiritual fellowship. It is the desire to work and to help others that comes as a result of study, prayer, and fellowship. This expresses itself in an offering, poured out on behalf of many needs.

Women and children and their menfolk, having recently learned to read, eagerly pore over magazines that help direct them on child care, sanitation, and gardening. They read in Spanish, Hindi, Maya, Arabic, Amharic, Persian, Otelela.

Young women come and go from buildings that are new. And it is a new fact that in Africa women have an equal opportunity with men in getting an education The World Day of Prayer offerings have helped make possible the Women's Center at the Protestant Medical Institute at Kimpese in the Congo.

The Harvester has come to be a symbol of joy and friendship to the childre of migratory farm laborers and to the parents. Twenty-two of these station wagons seek out the camps of America's fruit and vegetable pickers, taking games, motion pictures, play schools, community centers and chapel services to these Americans who are so essential to the lives of all of us.

In India, Pakistan, Tokyo, Korea, Africa, youth study in colleges helped by the World Day of Prayer, colleges which train for leadership to their people in education, medicine and Christian faith and living.

All of this and much more is happening around the world because of the gifts and prayers offered on the World Day of Prayer.

The impact of the World Day of Prayer increases with each year. In local communities throughout America worship centers are found in business houses, reminding all of the opportunity and power of prayer. Services are held in stores, banks, factories, and open fields, as well as in chapels, churches, and cathedrals The reign of God is proclaimed, One God, who speaks to all races and tribes - one God, one shepherd, one flock.

4,100,000 members of the Boy Scouts of America belong to 538 local councils.

TRAFFIC LAWS

"Ignorance is no excuse," Mr. McFadden said. "Many traffic offenders plead ignorance of local traffic laws as an excuse for his own traffic violation. But such a plea of ignorance only adds to the burden of guilt, for I believe that any man who climbs behind the wheel of a car should first acquaint himself thoroughly with the various traffic laws of the area through which he is driving."

Mr. McFadden offered the following rules for safe driving:

1. Know and obey ALL traffic laws.
2. Drive at a speed that is safe for conditions.
3. If you drive, don't drink; if you drink, don't drive.
4. Never attempt to cross an intersection unless you're sure you have the right of way. Always be ready to give up your right of way to avoid an accident.
5. Do not pass on hills or curves and never cut in sharply after passing.
6. Do not hog the road.
7. Heed all traffic signs and signals; they are the "Signs of Life."
8. Keep your car in first-class condition at all times.

THE WORLD

The Eskimo life described by the native dealt, as the teacher had, with the dress, the food and the housing of the Eskimos. The eskimo speaker confirmed what the wide-eyed little ones had learned about the food and manners (or lack of manners) of the eskimos in their eating habits. He said they eat the meat of the Bear the Seal and the Walrus, telling how they burn the oil from the walrus in their lamps and use it for cooking. When they have finished a meal the grease is smeared over their faces. He described the igloo and how the fur of the wolverine is used around the face because of its peculiarity in repelling the formation of ice. The Mukluk is the name of the sealskin boots. The Parkas complete the wearing apparel. Each family of Eskimos has its distinctive trim for is parkas. The speaker verified the difference in peoples of the interior of Alaska and those of the Aleutians and Eskimos of the north. The Eskimoes are a decidedly distinct tribe. Those people farther south are known as Indians and their "Aleut" relatives in the Aleutian chain. Aleut is Indian for "Bald rock."

The drawings in the window depict the childlike conceptions of such things as "What would happen if there were no gravity" and many phases of the elements.

Centerpiece for the scene is a solidly frozen lake and eskimoes in various attitudes plus a snow and igloo and all of this scene backgrounded by the Aurora Bo-

More and more pepole are making trips down to view these displays. The display of the fourth grade last week created an unusual interest and the present one is destined to be viewed by many. It must be thoroughly understood nation at home when studying the that no one is to leave his imagiart work in the current display.

PEEPS

Are you to be a candidate?

In keeping with my promise in 1952 and again in 1954 I am not a candidate in the mayoralty race for 1956.
O. B. Horstmann

Sheriff Carl Black asked Temple to pick up a negro iad by description, whom he knew was there on suspect in the Cameron robberies. The Temple JP was so cperative that he let every officer on the force "out on bond" long enough to apprehend one Cecil Donovan, 22, who was in the act of "cutting up" at the Groce Tote grocery store out on Ave. G Groce and his chief associate Marion Presley gave me the "Frog-sticker" their buddy with the shoplifting tendencies had slashed at them with and the cap that Presley knocked off his head with a loose thermos bottle. We gave the stuff to Sheriff Black but he reports little success in connecting the twice loser Donovan with the Cameron burglaries. So it looks like, if Black is not to be held in contempt of court, he will have to return the Caldwell negro to the jurisdiction of the Temple JP court for disposition on a petty theft rap, or if Groce and Presley can swing the deal another Sugarland trip for attemted murder.

The second graders do have the imagination and they know how to put it on paper. Don't, whatever you do, miss the display which, among other things shows these little artists conception of the world without gravity. They don't realize how lucky they are that the Texas Legislature has nothing to do with that law. They'd amend it.

If no one has a smart baby ... I gave you warning to write me what they have to say... I'm liable t oconsider it a victory by default and declare my 2 year old nephew the smartest baby in the world.

Max McClaren came in with some poop on the unofficial tally on poll taxes payed this year. The early returns show that there may be as slight increase over the total paid in the last presidential election year. Max, if you know his politics, believes there is a place for the Republican party in America . . . but that place isn't in office.

Be seeing you Mrs. Hightower.
